

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Date: October 26, 2009

Contact: Kristi Masterson 513/965-4247

kmasterson@cincynature.org

Grassy Run Fun at Cincinnati Nature Center

On Sunday, October 25, hundreds of people visited Cincinnati Nature Center for fun with Grassy Run Historical Arts Committee for a day of exploring nature's bounty! Children and adults participated in tin sheet stamping, walnut dyeing, carting, spinning, looming and quilting. Grassy Run treated the visitors to cider and cookies while they listened to the pioneer tunes of the dulcimer.

"It was a perfect fall day and our visitors enjoyed participating in the pioneer day activities," said Kristi Masterson, Community Relations Manager at Cincinnati Nature Center. "Grassy Run does an outstanding job at re-enacting the days of the pioneers and the children have fun learning! The trails were full of families, friends, and dogs taking advantage of the gorgeous fall weather," she added.

Grassy Run will be back at Cincinnati Nature Center on Sunday, November 15 from 1-5. They will be hosting a, "Pioneer Bountiful Thanksgiving Feast."

For additional information, visit www.cincynature.org or call 513/831-1711. Cincinnati Nature Center's Rowe Woods is located at 4949 Tealtown Road, Milford, OH 45150.

Cincinnati Nature Center is a non-profit, environmental education organization. Their mission is to inspire passion for nature and promote environmentally responsible choices through experience, education and stewardship to ensure a sustainable future.

###

Kim and Simone Sears of Mt. Lookout, create a decorative tin punch panel.

Simone Sears of Mt. Lookout proudly shows her masterpiece created at Cincinnati Nature Center.

Britney Vail examines the Red Spotted Newt she discovered at Cincinnati Nature Center.