Visit Exotic Places with Cincinnati Nature Center's Winter Travel Series

Travel to exotic lands at Cincinnati Nature Center's Winter Travel Series beginning January 10, from 2:00-3:30 p.m. at CNC's Rowe Woods Auditorium. Witness beautiful scenery and learn about cultural and natural history of far-away places without leaving your chair. Join Al Klee on January 10th as he explores Indonesia, the islands of fire and spice.

Visitors to Cincinnati Nature Center can journey with him as he retells his adventure during CNC's opening Winter Travel Series. Klee's travelogue presentation gives visitors a glimpse of a place of that most can only imagine. Each Sunday in January, visitors can take a trip to a new part of the world, without leaving the comfort of the Rowe Woods auditorium.

Cincinnati Nature Center Winter Travel Series Schedule

January 10	"Islands of Fire, Islands of Spice – Indonesia" with Al Klee
January 17	"Peru Safari – Amazon and Machu Picchu" with Lois Shadix
January 24	"The Many Colors of Nova Scotia" with Barbara Farber
January 31	"Cranes of Japan" with Allan Beach

Each program runs from 2:00-3:30 p.m. Admission: Cincinnati Nature Center members are free, nonmembers pay daily admission. Adults are $5, children are $1.

Bill Creasey, Cincinnati Nature Center's Chief Naturalist and Safari Manager, said, "This is a wonderful way to experience lands from all over the world. It also gives us an opportunity to highlight CNC's past trips such as the Peru Safari and give a description of our 2011 safari to Viet Nam."

For more information, visit www.CincyNature.org and click on the program and events calendar, or call 513/831-1711. Cincinnati Nature Center's Rowe Woods is located at 4949 Tealtown Road, Milford, OH 45150.

Cincinnati Nature Center is a non-profit, environmental education organization. Their mission is to inspire passion for nature and promote environmentally responsible choices through experience, education and stewardship to ensure a sustainable future.
